Washington, March 3.—As a climax to a 24-hour continuous filibuster against democratic investigations of republican elections, Sen. David A. Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, today threw the senate into consternation with presentation of the credentials of Senator-Elect William S. Vare, republican, Pennsylvania.

Reed played the trump card in his fighting game against the democrats by offering new credentials of Vare issued several days ago by Gov. John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania. He admitted he had buried in his desk drawer credentials issued several weeks ago by former Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania, suggesting Vare had only "apparently" been elected. The intimation was that the election was fraudulent.

The move took the senate by surprise. For 24 hours through the night it had been debating the democratic resolution to authorize the senate recount of Vare's election. With adjournment scheduled for noon tomorrow, it seemed the filibuster led by Reed, of Pennsylvania, might engulf all pending legislation.

A heated debate over Vare's right to his seat followed Reed's action. For months the senate had awaited presentation of the Vare credentials for opening the fight to keep him from his senate seat because of charges that Vare spent $825,000 in his primary election.

The presentation opened the way for new debate.

The presentation offered a new dilemma for senators in the most complicated and dramatic legislative battle of recent years—a battle raging uninterrupted since 11 A. M. yesterday.

Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, refused to permit reading of the credentials, and intimated he might move to refer them to the privileges and elections committee. If he made this motion, however, it might lead to debate which would in the end enable republican filibusters to kill his resolution and all pending legislation.

Reed, Missouri, charged the Fisher credentials were spurious.

"I insist that the senator from Pennsylvania be required to furnish the senate the genuine credentials for Mr. Vare offered by Gov. Pinchot," said Reed, Missouri.

Sen. Glass, democrat, Virginia, asked "What kind of a situation is the United States senate in when a senator can withhold one set of credentials and present another?"

Vice President Dawes ruled that he could do nothing about the situation and that if Reed of Pennsylvania wanted to keep the Pinchot credentials he could not order him to surrender them.

Reed of Pennsylvania said he would not give them up.

He said he considered the Fisher credentials the official credentials.

Washington, March 3.—A "break" may come tonight in the filibuster against the Reed resolution extending the life of the campaign fund investigating committee, Sen. Curtis, Kansas, republican floor leader, said this afternoon as the senate went into its 27th hour of continuous session.

The veteran floor leader has been using every possible means to break the deadlock, so some of the numerous bills caught in the jam may be extricated and passed before adjournment at noon tomorrow.

It was reported President Coolidge had sent word to republicans to drop their opposition to the Reed resolution. Curtis denied this, saying, "The president never interferes with us here."

There was no indication on the floor of any immediate break.

The credentials of Vare were referred to the elections committee after long discussion as were the credentials of Frank L. Smith of Illinois.

Washington, March 3.—Tied in one of the most bitter deadlocks of legislative history, the United States senate sat throughout the night wrangling, fighting and jostling over the democratic move to continue investigating republican elections.

STANDS ARCTIC
WINTER WITH A
WET BLANKET

Seward, Alaska, March 3.—(UP)—Equipped merely with a wet blanket to withstand the rigors of an Alaskan winter, Axel Larson spent two weeks marooned on an island 12 miles from here, it was revealed today when he arrived aboard the vessel which had rescued him, the halibut schooner Republic.

Larson's fishing boat was wrecked a fortnight ago and he was cast on the island without food or matches but with a blanket which was soaked and remained wet during his enforced stay. Wind, snow and hail alternated to plague Larson, but he subsisted on mussels and was able to keep alive. Owing to heavy surf, Larson was compelled to swim 70 yards to reach the Republic.

Of killing time since 11 A. M. yesterday, republican filibusters served notice they would hold out until final adjournment of this session at noon tomorrow, if necessary to kill the Reed resolution proposing that the sensational Illinois and Pennsylvania primary investigation be continued.

At 6 A. M. Senator Cole L. Blease, democrat, South Carolina, who furnished comedy relief from the grim all night battle, held the floor and read the sleepy senate an extraneous lecture on parliamentary law.

The 19 hours of continuous session at dawn showed effects upon the elderly statesmen who sat about the chamber trying to keep awake or lolled upon the cloakroom couches, trying to get a few winks of sleep.

From the start, the battle was a dogged one, and repeated attempts to obtain unanimous consent for a solution of the difficulties went for naught. Three times during the early morning hours democratic and republican leaders attempted to fix a compromise schedule to permit adoption of the $125,000,000 public buildings bill, the second deficiency appropriation bill, and the alien property bill.

Blease objected to every offer and was immune to the entreaties of leaders of all groups who pleaded with him that all legislation must fall in these closing hours unless he relented.

"I don't care who South Carolina sends here four years from now when my term is up," Blease said. "I don't want to come back here unless the personnel of this body changes materially."

"But I am going to object to any agreement which would let this Reed resolution get through. There are about 30 hours left to this session."

"If somebody else will talk 15 hours, I'll talk 15 hours."

While Blease carried the brunt of the filibuster, Senator James Reed, democrat, Missouri, chairman of the committee which made the primary investigations, sat wearily on the democratic side of the chamber, leading the fight for his resolution against the opposition of Sen. David A. Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, close friend of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The battle proper started at 6:10 P. M. last night, when the senate passed the Andrews prohibition reorganization bill by a vote of 71 to 6 thereby killing the wet filibuster against that measure.

Upon Senator James Reed's motion, the senate then took up the primary resolution by a vote of 53 to 24.

Washington, March 3.—Recurring reports that Secretary of State Kellogg will soon resign are resented by Kellogg and his friends as an alleged undercover campaign to force him out of office.

Kellogg is plainly angry whenever the subject is mentioned. He was partially vexed on the eve of his departure for Charleston, S. C., to recuperate from his recent illness.

Out of the maze of reports and denials, three facts were clear today.

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Backers, producers and actors of the play "Sex" today faced indictments charging corruption of public morals and offenses against decency.

The offending play has been running a year and was approved by a citizens' play jury.

C. W. Morgenthau, producer of the play, two backers whose names have not been made public, Mae West, leading woman, and other members of the cast, were included in the indictments, returned yesterday.

MEASURE

Tokio, March 3.—(UP)—Two Japanese cruisers with 500 marines aboard were ordered to Shanghai today. The navy department said its action did not indicate that the Shanghai situation had become worse, but merely was a precautionary measure.

By H. FRANCIS MISSELWITZ
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, March 3.—The Cantonese armies at Sungkiang skirmished with northern troops today as Chang Chung-Chang completed preparations for an offensive against the southern forces.

Chang, tired of waiting for a Cantonese attack, planned an attempt to recapture territory relinquished by troops of Marshal Sun, whom he replaced, the United Press was informed.

Chang's army in the Shanghai vicinity is large enough to crush the Cantonese forces in a purely military engagement, but politics rather than armies controls the situation now.

It was reported by British sources. Sharp dissension between reds and modernists in the Cantonese forces was reported from Hankow, where it was said a nationalist executive council session had been postponed because of the split. The extremists were reported to be struggling to maintain their control against growing centrist strength.

General Duncan, commander of the British forces guarding the Shanghai foreign settlement, had recovered today from his fever and was scheduled to review his troops.

Shanghai was perturbed today by the arrival of thousands of Marshal Sun Chuan Fang's disarmed troops and their attempt to enter the international settlement internment camp established at Woomung. British marines marched through the settlement today and it was understood the Americans would make their first appearance Saturday.

The last of Sun's troops have evacuated Nanking and the Russian steamer Lenina arrived today with "white" Russians and munitions aboard for Chang Chung-Chang's army.

Madrid, March 3.—(UP)—The fate of Major Laere Borges, Uruguayan trans-Atlantic flier, and his crew, was a mystery today, as hours passed with no word from the aviators.

Major Borges left Casa Blanca, Morocco, early yesterday and flew toward the Canary Islands, which he should have reached about 2 p. m. His destination had not been definitely fixed, however, and it was believed he might have gone on the African coast.

Washington, March 3.—(UP)—A lightship and two barges with a total of 25 to 28 men aboard were adrift and a passenger steamer was disabled off the Atlantic coast early today while a March gale whipped the coastline from the Carolinas north, coast guard headquarters here reported.

The lightship Weatherquarter, with 15 to 18 men aboard, was reported adrift between Cape Charles Va., and Atlantic City, N. J.

Two barges with 10 men aboard were believed to be drifting helplessly between Hog Island, Pa., and Chincoteague, Va. The barges broke loose from the tug Bathgate.

The steamer St. Louis, its steering gear disabled, was being tossed by the storm-driven sea off Cape Hatteras. The coast guard cutter Carabasset was sent to its aid.

The British steamer King David, went aground off Cape Henry, Va., but was refloated shortly after midnight on its own power.

Norfolk, Va., March 3.—The coast guard cutter Macoutin today was sent from Norfolk to search for the barges Bangor and Armistead, with a crew of 10, which are being whipped about by the high seas between Chincoteague and Hog Island.

The barge mishap was the sole accident calling for assistance from the wakened shore patrols along the capes, though wires brought word of other craft fighting desperately with the storm which swept out from the capes and toward the New England coast yesterday.

Norfolk itself was snow-buried. The fall was unparalleled in 22 years and traffic was disturbed. High tides sweeping in before a 40-mile gale flooded low sections of the city. Schools and department stores were closed yesterday afternoon.

The British steamer King David, which went ashore three miles off Cape Henry late last night, woke up the coast with distress calls but she was refloated and was proceeding on her way today, apparently uninjured.

Bemidji, Minn., March 3.—(UP)—While campaigns are being conducted throughout the nation lauding the health qualities of milk one resident of Bemidji today was prepared to tell the world that milk is nearly fatal—particularly when it rains down from the skies in large bottles.

Gust Cederberg, while wending his way along a row of apartments suddenly found himself in a doctor's office where one medic was taking plain and fancy stitches in the Cederberg scalp while another mopped milk from the victim's face and clothing.

Meanwhile a tenant on the third floor of the apartment explained to her neighbor that although she had just put a quart bottle of milk on the window-ledge when she looked for it, the bottle was gone.

Los Angeles, March 3.—(UP)—Despite assertions of her followers that Mrs. Margaret Rowan has been "lifted over the mountain tops" by supernatural means, authorities today continued their search for the prophetess, Mrs. Rowan, who predicted the end of the world in 1925, is charged with conspiracy to commit murder.

Mrs. Rowan, self-styled "hand-maiden" of the Lord, instigated a murderous attack upon him, according to Dr. Bert Fuller, cult leader and formerly one of Mrs. Rowan's staunchest followers. He asserted he was struck over the head with a length of gas-pipe.

The attack was precipitated by Dr. Fuller's open opposition to the religious beliefs of Mrs. Rowan, Fuller claimed.

'Some Complications'
In Seizure of Rich
Federalship Rum Boat

San Francisco, March 3.—(UP)—When the captured rum boat Federalship with $1,500,000 worth of liquor aboard docks in San Francisco, there probably will be "some complications," U. S. Attorney Hatfield admitted today.

The Federalship was taken into custody by four coast guard cutters 300 miles at sea. She refused to surrender until the government boats threatened to shell her.

Hatfield justified the capture by declaring that "a pirate is outlawed by all countries and may be proceeded against wherever he may be found."

His office has authentic information, Hatfield said, that William Bowen, hunted by prohibition authorities two years, is aboard the Federalship. Bowen is under indictment for murder in connection with the Moss Landing liquor battle in 1925 when a deputy sheriff was slain by whiskey smugglers.

Albany, N. Y., March 3.—(UP)—Joseph Barnum, the 13-year-old Beacon boy who was stabbed by his mother and refused to tell the authorities until they promised not to "punish her," probably will receive a college education because of his devotion to her.

Dr. Matthias Nicoll, Jr., state health commissioner, today received a letter from George W. Davis, superintendent of the Child Welfare board of Dutchess county, who investigated the case. Davis said the Barnum family is not in want, but that many people had sent in contributions.

The funds, if they reach a sufficient amount, will be used to set up a scholarship for Joseph, Davis wrote.

CHARGE NEW YORKER

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Col. Edward C. Carrington, arraigned in West Side court today, obtained a week's postponement of his examination on a charge of felonious assault in connection with an alleged attack with a cane upon his brother, Campbell Carrington.

Max D. Steiner, counsel for Carrington, protested against delay.

"This man," he said of Col. Carrington, "is dangerous. He beat an 18-year-old girl, loosened her teeth, and bruised her body, although she weighs only 100 pounds. And not only that, but he has frequently beaten his own wife into unconsciousness. This young girl is ready to testify about his brutality."

St. Paul, March 3.—(UP)—Another inquiry into the legality of the 1924 senatorial election in which Thomas D. Schall was declared winner over Magnus Johnson became a certainty today.

The Minnesota senate by a vote of 54 to 8 accepted the report of its rules committee, recommending the inquiry.

Truth or untruth of charges of corruption made against Sen. Schall is to be ascertained by a committee of five to be appointed by Lieutenant Gov. W. I. Nolan.

"The good name of the state of Minnesota is at stake," Sen. F. E. Putnam, Blue Earth county, commented during debate. "Many men have been sent to prison on much less evidence than that given before the rules committee Wednesday by A. N. Jacobs, Mr. Schall's campaign manager."

Testimony given by Jacobs was not made public.

Senators J. D. Sullivan, St. Cloud, and A. J. Rockne, Zumbrota, added their voices to the demand for the inquiry.

Sen. G. H. Sullivan, Stillwater, spoke against it.

Including the cost of battery, tube and flashlight cells for lighting the filament, the cost of the set was less than $8.00. Using two amplifiers measuring three by five inches, enough volume can be secured with the set to operate a loud speaker on nearby stations. ### 'SEX' PLAY HAS BACKERS, OTHERS IN LEGAL TROUBLE

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Backers, producers and actors of the play "Sex" today faced indictments charging corruption of public morals and offenses against decency.

The offending play has been running a year and was approved by a citizens' play jury.

C. W. Morganstern, producer of the play, two backers whose names have not been made public, Mae West, leading woman, and other members of the cast, were included in the indictments, returned yesterday.

2 JAPANESE CRUISERS ON TO SHANGHAI

SITUATION IS NOT WORSE, STEPS TAKEN AS PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE

Tokio, March 3.—(UP)—Two Japanese cruisers with 500 marines aboard were ordered to Shanghai today. The navy department said its action did not indicate that the Shanghai situation had become worse, but merely was a precautionary measure.

By H. FRANCIS MISSELWITZ
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, March 3.—The Cantonese armies at Sungkiang skirmished with northern troops today as Chang Chung-Chang completed preparations for an offensive against the southerners.

Chang, tired of waiting for a Cantonese attack, planned an attempt to recapture territory relinquished by troops of Marshal Sun, whom he replaced, the United Press was informed.

Chang's army in the Shanghai vicinity is large enough to crush the Cantonese forces in a purely military engagement, but politics rather than armies controls the situation now.

It was reported by British sources. Sharp dissension between reds and modernists in the Cantonese forces was reported from Hankow, where it was said a nationalist executive council session had been postponed because of the split. The extremists were reported to be struggling to maintain their control against growing centrist strength.

General Duncan, commander of the British forces guarding the Shanghai foreign settlement, had recovered today from his fever and was scheduled to review his troops.

Shanghai was perturbed today by the arrival of thousands of Marshal Sun Chuan Fang's disarmed troops and their attempt to enter the international settlement internment camp established at Woosung. British marines marched through the settlement today and it was understood the Americans would make their first appearance Saturday.

The last of Sun's troops have evacuated Nanking and the Russian steamer Lenina arrived today with "white" Russians and munitions aboard for Chang Chung-Chang's army.

FATE OF URUGUAYAN FLYER AND HIS CREW REMAINS MYSTERY

Madrid, March 3.—(UP)—The fate of Major Laere Borges, Uruguayan trans-Atlantic flier, and his crew, was a mystery today, as hours passed with no word from the aviators.

Major Borges left Casa Blanca, Morocco, early yesterday and flew toward the Canary Islands, which he should have reached about 2 p. m. His destination had not been definitely fixed, however, and it was believed he might have gone on the African coast.

MARCH GALE WHIPS COAST, DOING DAMAGE

LIGHTSHIP WEATHERQUARTER IS ADRIFT BETWEEN CAPE CHARLES, ATLANTIC CITY

STEAMER ST. LOUIS, STEERING GEAR DISABLED, TOSSED OFF CAPE HATTERAS

Washington, March 3.—(UP)—A lightship and two barges with a total of 25 to 28 men aboard were adrift and a passenger steamer was disabled off the Atlantic coast early today while a March gale whipped the coastline from the Carolinas north, coast guard headquarters here reported.

The lightship Weatherquarter, with 15 to 18 men aboard, was reported adrift between Cape Charles, Va., and Atlantic City, N. J.

Two barges with 10 men aboard were believed to be drifting helplessly between Hog Island, Pa., and Chincoteague, Va. The barges broke loose from the tug Bathgate.

The steamer St. Louis, its steering gear disabled, was being tossed by the storm-driven sea off Cape Hatteras. The coast guard cutter Carabasset was sent to its aid.

The British steamer King David went aground off Cape Henry, Va., but was refloated shortly after midnight on its own power.

Norfolk, Va., March 3.—The coast guard cutter Macoutin today was sent from Norfolk to search for the barges Bangor and Armistead, with a crew of 10, which are being whipped about by the high seas between Chincoteague and Hog Island.

The barge mishap was the sole accident calling for assistance from the wakened shore patrols along the coast, though wires brought word of other craft fighting desperately with the storm which swept out from the capes and toward the New England coast yesterday.

Norfolk itself was snow-buried. The fall was unparalleled in 22 years and traffic was disturbed. High tides sweeping in before a 40-mile gale flooded low sections of the city. Schools and department stores were closed yesterday afternoon.

The British steamer King David, which went ashore three miles off Cape Henry late last night, woke up the coast with distress calls but she was refloated and was proceeding on her way today, apparently uninjured.

QUART BOTTLE OF MILK HIT HIM ON HEAD

Bemidji, Minn., March 3.—(UP)—While campaigns are being conducted throughout the nation lauding the health qualities of milk one resident of Bemidji today was prepared to tell the world that milk is nearly fatal—particularly when it rains down from the skies in large bottles.

Gust Cederberg, while wending his way along a row of apartments suddenly found himself in a doctor's office where one medic was taking plain and fancy stitches in the Cederberg scalp while another mopped milk from the victim's face and clothing.

Meanwhile a tenant on the third floor of the apartment explained to her neighbor that although she had just put a quart bottle of milk on the window-ledge when she looked for it, the bottle was gone.

'LIFTED OVER MOUNTAIN TOPS,' SAY FOLLOWERS

Los Angeles, March 3.—(UP)—Despite assertions of her followers that Mrs. Margaret Rowan has been "lifted over the mountain tops" by supernatural means, authorities today continued their search for the prophetess. Mrs. Rowan, who predicted the end of the world in 1925, is charged with conspiracy to commit murder.

Mrs. Rowan, self-styled "hand-maiden" of the Lord, instigated a murderous attack upon him, according to Dr. Bert Fuller, cult leader and formerly one of Mrs. Rowan's staunchest followers. He asserted he was struck over the head with a length of gas-pipe. The attack was preplanned by Dr. Fuller's open opposition to the religious beliefs of Mrs. Rowan, Fuller claimed.

'Some Complications' In Seizure of Rich Federalship Rum Boat

San Francisco, March 3.—(UP)—When the captured rum boat Federalship with $1,500,000 worth of liquor aboard docks in San Francisco, there probably will be "some complications," U. S. Attorney Hatfield admitted today.

The Federalship was taken into custody by four coast guard cutters 300 miles at sea. She refused to surrender until the government boats threatened to shell her.

Hatfield justified the capture by declaring that a pirate is outlawed by all countries and may be proceeded against wherever he may be found.

His office has authentic information. Hatfield said, that William Bowen, hunted by prohibition authorities two years, is aboard the Federalship. Bowen is under indictment for murder in connection with the Moss Landing liquor battle in 1925 when a deputy sheriff was slain by whiskey smugglers.

SON, STABBED BY HIS MOTHER, REFUSES TO TELL

Albany, N. Y., March 3.—(UP)—Joseph Barnum, the 13-year-old Beacon boy who was stabbed by his mother and refused to tell the authorities until they promised not to "punish her," probably will receive a college education because of his devotion to her.

Dr. Matthias Nicoll, Jr., state health commissioner, today received a letter from George W. Davids, superintendent of the Child Welfare board of Dutchess county, who investigated the case. Davids said the Barnum family is not in want, but that many people had sent in contributions.

The funds, if they reach a sufficient amount, will be used to set up a scholarship for Joseph, Davids wrote.

CHARGE NEW YORKER WITH BRUTALITY

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Col. Edward C. Carrington, arraigned in West Side court today, obtained a week's postponement of his examination on a charge of felonious assault in connection with an alleged attack with a cane upon his brother, Campbell Carrington.

Max D. Steuer, counsel for Carrington, protested against delay.

GEO. F. BAKER, NEW YORK BANKER, RECOVERING HEALTH

Brunswick, Ga., March 3.—(UP)—George F. Baker, 87-year-old New York banker, is recovering from a slight illness at the Jekyll Island club, near here, officials of the club said in reply to rumors in Brunswick that the millionaire was seriously ill and was threatened with pneumonia.

Dr. George D. Stewart, Baker's physician, who accompanied him here from New York a month ago, refused to give out any information.

BECOMES A CERTAINTY IN STATE SENATE

BY VOTE OF 54 TO 8 SENATE ACCEPTS REPORT OF RULES COMMITTEE

TRUTH OR UNTRUTH OF THE CHARGES OF CORRUPTION TO BE SIFTED

St. Paul, March 3.—(UP)—Another inquiry into the legality of the 1924 senatorial election in which Thomas D. Schall was declared winner over Magnus Johnson became a certainty today.

The Minnesota senate by a vote of 54 to 8 accepted the report of its rules committee, recommending the inquiry.

Truth or untruth of charges of corruption made against Sen. Schall is to be ascertained by a committee of five to be appointed by Lieutenant Gov. W. I. Nolan.

"The good name of the state of Minnesota is at stake," Sen. F. E. Putnam, Blue Earth county, commented during debate. "Many men have been sent to prison on much less evidence than that given before the rules committee Wednesday by A. N. Jacobs, Mr. Schall's campaign manager."

Testimony given by Jacobs was not made public.

Senators J. D. Sullivan, St. Cloud, and A. J. Rockne, Zumbrota, added their voices to the demand for the inquiry.

Sen. G. H. Sullivan, Stillwater, spoke against it.

'POCKET EDITION' OF RADIO MADE

Winona, Minn., March 3.—(UP)—Radio fans of Winona were interested today in studying the "pocket edition" constructed by Walter Wasnoska, which although measuring only seven inches in length and four inches in height and width, is capable of picking up New York and New Orleans.

Including the cost of battery, tube and flashlight coils for lighting the filament, the cost of the set was less than $8.00. Using two amplifiers measuring three by five inches, enough volume can be secured with the set to operate a loud speaker on nearby stations. The midget uses a portable "B" battery measuring 3½x 2¼x 3 inches.

Thirty-eight stations have been picked up by the set including New York and New Orleans. The range in wave lengths is from 214 to 526 meters.

MINNESOTA CHEESE PRODUCERS MEET

Pine Island, Minn., March 3.—(UP)—The Minnesota Cheese Producers' association held its seventh annual meeting here today in which plans were laid to place Minnesota still higher among cheese producing states of the nation.

F. G. Cornica, sales manager of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' association explained to the assembled delegates the work of the organization in Minnesota's sister state. F. G. Swoboda, general manager of the Wisconsin organization, followed Cornica with a talk on the work of the federation.

ESDON NEWS

Sleighting on Highways Begins to Look Like Thing of the Past

March started in rather chilly so it may be spring weather by the last. Oscar Hammett and family who have been living on the Rosenkranz farm at Esdon have moved on the H. M. Johnson farm in Nokay Lake township.

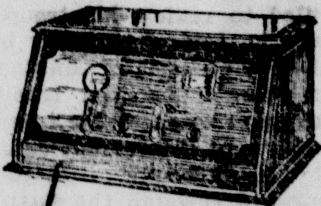

The sleighting on the highway begins to look like a thing of the past, but we hear no complaints about it as it sure has been a long winter. Jay Coffeld spent a few days of last week at the "Veit Camp" with Henry Fleischer and John Veit.

M. Seipp and Mrs. Henry Fleischer celebrated their birthdays together at the Seipp home on Feb. 22. The evening was spent in games and victrola music. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Seipp. The big birthday cake for Mr. Seipp with the 76 candles on it sure was a beautiful sight as was the birthday cake for Mrs. Fleischer with a much smaller number of candles. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Jim Coffeld left for St. Paul Monday night with two car loads of stock.

With the machine it is possible to duplicate any size or style of plate glass replacement for any make of automobile.

DEERWOOD SANATORIUM NOTES

By SEVERN SWANSON

On Sunday evening from 6 to 8 o'clock, the patients at the San, had an opportunity to listen to the first musical program, outside of the regular church services each Sunday afternoon, that they have heard for a year when the American Legion of Brainerd, assisted by the Ladies Auxiliary, were sponsors of a delightful entertainment.

The personnel of the Ladies' Auxiliary orchestra and the instruments played are as follows:

Miss Gladys Senn, clarinet and saxophone; Mrs. Robert Anderson, piano; Miss Mayme Nelson, saxophone; Miss Irene Turcotte, saxophone; Miss Esther Nelson, cornet; Mrs. Ethel Fox, cornet; Miss Gladys Peterson, cornet; Miss Emily Mraz, trombone; Miss Irene Englund, alto horn; Miss Mayme Scallen, drums; Mrs. Louis Johnson, tuba.

Ben N. Anderson acted as chairman and announced the following program:

Processional march—Orchestra.
Neopolitan Nights—Orchestra.
Love's Trinity, vocal solo—A. C. Mraz, baritone.
They All Love Jack, vocal solo—A. C. Mraz, baritone.
Arrival of the Guests, violin duet—Leonard and Gladys Johnson.
My Wild Irish Rose, violin duet—Leonard and Gladys Johnson.
Smiles—Orchestra.
The Little White House—Orchestra.

Bedouin Love Song, vocal solo—A. C. Mraz.

The Bee's Courtship, vocal solo—A. C. Mraz.

Prisoner's song, violin duet—Leonard and Gladys Johnson.

My Wild Irish Rose, violin duet—Leonard and Gladys Johnson.

In the Gloaming, piano solo—Louis Johnson.

Jealous—Orchestra.

Pack Up Your Troubles—Orchestra.

Speech by Basil T. Heath.

The ladies had a lot of pep which instantly made a hit with their audience. From the high tones of the clarinet and cornet to the lower notes of the tuba and the big bass drum, the music went gayly on to the finish.

Mr. Mraz was in good voice and as usual sang splendidly, especially in his second song, "They All Love Jack." If Jack could love as well "Al" can sing, you can't blame the girls if "They All Love Jack."

He was accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Emily, and as the writer happened to be sitting next to the piano at the time and was watching her nimble fingers glide over the ivories, he came to the conclusion that as an accompanist, "She's there."

Leonard and Gladys, the young children of Mrs. George Johnson, played the violin very well and were given a big hand by the audience when they were through. They were accompanied at the piano by Louis Johnson, who later was to play a piano solo, "In the Gloaming." This was not only a very pretty piece but was also very well played.

Basil T. Heath gave a short talk on "Why We're Here," stressing the fact that Axel Anderson was a buddy of the Brainerd American Legion. He also gave several amusing anecdotes which made a hit with the crowd and then he presented a package to Mr. Anderson containing a two pound box of chocolates, two books of fiction and a check for ten dollars.

The ladies orchestra not only played but sang the chorus of "Smiles" and "Pack Up Your Troubles" and so caught the fancy of the crowd that we just couldn't resist the temptation so we all joined in the chorus.

Dr. and Mrs. Strader then gave a luncheon to the guests. This consisted of devil's food cake, sandwiches, coffee and olives.

Visitors present but not appearing on the program were Mr. and Mrs. John T. Imgrund, Jr., E. H. Rhodes, Emil Backlund, Mrs. George Johnson, and children, Anton Swanson, Melvin Pederson, and Miss Berneice Breason.

It was the largest crowd of charming ladies and handsome men that we have had with us for many months. We thank you all and hope you come again.

On Saturday, Dr. E. L. Strader held the usual monthly clinic at Crosby.

Miss Clara Peterson visited her home at Crosby on Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Allars returned on Tuesday to her home near Pequot after several days visiting with her daughter, Miss Beatrice.

Monday we had spinach for dinner and as that contains a lot of iron, you can imagine what a heavy meal it was.

"There goes half a dollar," laughed Mr. Hovveth as he bounced his "temp-stick" on the stone floor.

Severn Swanson went spearing at supper time last week and managed to land a cup of coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wagner of Aitkin, Robert Fergus and the Misses Edna and Kathryn Kimball visited with Miss Flora Kimball on Sunday.

J. S. Spurrier entertained his wife and John Galeaneault of Aitkin on Sunday.

Mrs. Agnes Olson of Duluth states that she almost had a news item for the notes this week but the expected event failed to materialize. We believe this case deserves special mention because it shows that she is trying to cooperate. No doubt she has taken to heart some of the advice given by Miss Ann Johnson of Aitkin who recently gave a speech on "Co-operation."

Axel Anderson has passed around the box of candy received from the American Legion of Brainerd so that we all had a taste. Gee the candy was good.

While Mr. Kuehn was using his Speech by Basil T. Heath.

The ladies had a lot of pep which instantly made a hit with their audience. From the high tones of the clarinet and cornet to the lower notes of the tuba—drums and to the big tuba which went "Oompa—Oompa"—"Oompa—Oompa", all accompanied by the piano and the rat-a-tat-tat of the snare drum and the boom, boom, boom of the big bass drum, the music went gayly on to the finish.

Mr. Mraz was in good voice and as usual sang splendidly, especially in his second song, "They All Love Jack." If Jack could love as well "Al" can sing, you can't blame the girls if "They All Love Jack."

He was accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Emily, and as the writer happened to be sitting next to the piano at the time and was watching her nimble fingers glide over the ivories, he came to the conclusion that as an accompanist, "She's there."

Leonard and Gladys, the young children of Mrs. George Johnson, played the violin very well and were given a big hand by the audience when they were through. They were accompanied at the piano by Louis Johnson, who later was to play a piano solo, "In the Gloaming." This was not only a very pretty piece but, was also very well played.

Basil T. Heath gave a short talk on "Why We're Here," stressing the fact that Axel Anderson was a buddy of the Brainerd American Legion. He also gave several amusing anecdotes which made a hit with the crowd and then he presented a package to Mr. Anderson containing a two pound box of chocolates, two books of fiction and a check for ten dollars.

The ladies orchestra not only played but sang the chorus of "Smiles" and "Pack Up Your Troubles" and so caught the fancy of the crowd that we just couldn't resist the temptation so we all joined in the chorus.

Dr. and Mrs. Strader then gave a luncheon to the guests. This consisted of devil's food cake, sandwiches, coffee and olives.

Visitors present but not appearing on the program were Mr. and Mrs. John T. Imgrund, Jr., E. H. Rhodes, Emil Backlund, Mrs. George Johnson, and children, Anton Swanson, Melvin Pederson, and Miss Bernice Breason.

It was the largest crowd of charming ladies and handsome men that we have had with us for many months. We thank you all and hope you come again.

On Saturday, Dr. E. L. Strader held the usual monthly clinic at Crosby.

Miss Clara Peterson visited her home at Crosby on Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Allars returned on Tuesday to her home near Pequot after several days visiting with her daughter, Miss Beatrice.

Monday we had spinach for dinner and as that contains a lot of iron, you can imagine what a heavy meal it was.

"There goes half a dollar," laughed Mr. Hovseth as he bounced his "temp-stick" on the stone floor.

Severn Swanson went spearing at supper time last week end managed to land a cup of coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wagner of Aitkin, Robert Ferguson and the Misses Edna and Kathryn Kimball visited with Miss Flora Kimball on Sunday.

J. S. Spurrier entertained his wife and John Galerneault of Aitkin on Sunday.

Mrs. Agnes Olson of Duluth states that she almost had a news item for the notes this week but the expected event failed to materialize. We believe this case deserves special mention because it shows that she is trying to cooperate. No doubt she has taken to heart some of the advice given by Miss Ann Johnson of Aitkin who recently gave a speech on "Co-operation."

Axel Anderson has passed around the box of candy received from the American Legion of Brainerd so that we all had a taste. Gee the candy was good.

While Mr. Kuehn was using his

"CROPPING" TIMBER

"A SHIFT from a 'mining' to a 'cropping' system of timber utilization," is a new phrase used to describe the changing attitude of the American people with regard to making forest lands more productive, says the Industrial News Bureau, The Manufacturer.

The old system consisted in extracting timber much as metals have to be mined from the earth, making the most of available supplies. It looked upon a stand of timber as upon a lode of metal—to be used once. The cropping system looks upon trees as upon any other self-perpetuating crop, to be so developed as to give the highest yield over an endless period of time.

One of the principal advantages of the cropping system is that it often improves the entire stand by removing trees that are too crowded, and by eliminating underbrush which often leads to forest fires. As the success of the large lumber companies in applying this system becomes known, the small owners of forest lands throughout the country, will doubtless be induced to take it up.

Our state of Minnesota adopted a constitutional amendment providing for forestry regulations putting in effect a cropping system of timber utilization. Waste lands are to be considered potential forest land. Lands once off the tax rolls because considered unproductive, may be made to yield handsome dividends in timber and be an actual resource of the state.

Minnesota is not the only state to adopt a conservation program in regard to its forests. Intelligent effort may bring back some of our forest area, and proper use of the area will succeed in perpetuating its forests.

"Farmer" Burns, dean of American wrestlers, at 66 says he feels as fit as ever and is certain that he could give many of today's young wrestling aspirants some good lessons. For the last few years Burns has been a teacher of physical culture. He saved his money from 6,000 wrestling matches and is comparatively wealthy. Husky at his age, coupled with clean living and clean sport, shows that wrestling must be a more lady-like and less nerve and body destroying task than baseball, boxing, football, or any other sport except golf.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, working his way through college, is informed by his chums, Freddy and Arch, that they have found an easy and profitable way to earn money—working as dancing partners, of afternoon, for rich women in a fashionable New Jersey roadhouse. Bob thinks it isn't a fit way to make a living; but, faced with eviction for unpaid rent, reluctantly agrees to go to the roadhouse. There he sees the prettiest girl he has ever laid eyes on. She is Sally, the cigarette girl. Mazie Revere, a gold-digger, is jealous.

CHAPTER V—Continued

Mazie Revere was a pretty faded Jane. Deprived of a dance, she languidly turned to seek fun in the tormenting of Sally Smith, the little cigarette girl, who stood dreamily beside her there, staring out upon Bob Ward. Staring out upon a shining, dappled sea that traced a joyous path to isles of romance, of untroubled content!

It got under Mazie's sophisticated skin to see such unashamed and unalloyed and wholly innocent love at first sight. Such wistful trust in the sunny side of things; such reverence for the innate beauty and truth of life to which Mazie had long since shut her eyes.

For Sally Smith's illusions were still buoyantly around her head; while Mazie Revere's were in tatters under her expensive French heels.

So Mazie, the taste of sour grapes strong within her carmined lips, sneered:

"See the way that old cluck necks our football hero!" Then, more cattily, adding: "He seems to like it, too!"

"He does not!" Sally Smith's feet were tiny, but they could stamp upon a floor with a most emphatic show of indignation. There were battle nags glinting in

Watched him, and glowed with amused joy at his awkwardness. Laughed gleefully to herself at his greenness. And nurtured a Vision in her eyes.

Which was most important and interesting.

CHAPTER VI

The afternoon wore on as afternoons have a way of doing, even in New Jersey roadhouses. Even in exclusive and dazzy roadhouses such as Palladio Inn, where the hours are high-priced—bought, as they are, in costly three-minute dance intervals.

The hours of this particular afternoon were lent especially swift and airy wings for two youngsters, for whom all time—the oppressive tyranny of hours, minutes, seconds—had stopped. The pulses and hearts of Sally Smith and Bob Ward were throbbing and leaping with not a regard in creation for clocks or dials or rules.

Bob, with his strong hands clasping the flabby shoulders of perfumed play-wives, could dance the better for feasting his eyes—and his soul!—upon little Sally Smith, wending her quaint vendor's erratic path among the tables.

That was his other self dancing—his physical, rearing self. This was his real self looking at Sally—his ambitious, idealizing, degree-seeking self.

Sally, with her slim little hands balancing her tray close in front of her childishly fluttering breast, could banter and bargain over her wares the more gaily for feasting her eyes upon Bob Ward. It was within the scope of the miracle of innocence and guile combined in little Sally Smith to permit at once this detachment and absorption.

At first Bob had sought her after each dance. Had followed her around, wondering and worshipping in his shy, inarticulate way. Directly, and not too obviously, of course.

Yet Mazie, who saw and knew all things, warned him:

"Better lay off mooning after the cigarette girl, Mr. Bob. Football hero Ward, or your first afternoon here will be your last. Madame Loucks ain't runnin' a mash bureau for her employees. Only for her customers. A word to the wise is a sock in the eyes, eh, Big Boy?"

Bob flushed—chagrined to know that his casting dreams must be so plainly mirrored in his face.

He hurried away to join Freddy and Arch, who, at a side stall table, were idling between dances, waiting to be signified by some fair, forty-and-fat ladies as partners for the next dance.

"Well," greeted Arch, "how do you like it, old Graveyard? Still feel that it's a great sin, no fit way for a he-man to make a living, and all that sort of rot?"

"Oh, it's all right, I guess. Hardly a thing to be proud of, though."

"And why not, Mr. Moralist? After all, we're giving value for pay received, which is the fundamental principle of honest work. We're providing many of these women with the only joy and fun they have in life. Don't be too ready to condemn them or even to sneer at them. How do we know what kind of home lives they have—what drives them out to play here? What kind of miserly, grouchy husbands? Let them have their fun—and we sure earn our fifty bucks by providing it for them."

"Yes," laughed Bob, "maybe you're right. Only we're underpaid. It's worth fifty dollars a day to dance with some of these women. Honest, when that floor gets crowded, and they're all clutching and straining and bumping to the whang of the music, I can just close my eyes and it doesn't take any stretch of the imagination at all to make me think I'm playing football. In a scrimmage, after a fumble. And say, some of the partners I've drawn have mangled my feet more than any Fordham or Rutgers line buckers ever did!"

Freddy cast a critical eye around. "Yeh," he agreed, "the clucks here this afternoon are a little passé. But it's early yet. And there are some real swell janes who come in here sometimes. Young and pretty, too. There's one in particular—Mrs. Hammond. Boy, she's a knockout. Tons of money, tons of class, tons of good looks, tons of black hair, tons of everything! Wait until you see HER!"

Bob smiled. "Even if the 'tons' turn out to be only pounds, I'd say from your description that this marvelous Mrs. Hammond person would be well worth looking at!"

"She is!" enthused Freddy and Arch in chorus.

"Who is she?" asked Bob, feeling interested in spite of himself. The reason of the uncommon description given by his chums, whom he knew, were rather blase young college men, to say the least, and not easily carried out of their campus affectation of sangfroid.

"We don't know," explained Freddy. "Nobody knows! She's a real lady of mystery."

(To be continued.)

"Better Lay Off Mooning After the Cigarette Girl."

the eyes she turned upon Mazie. Mazie took shrewd refuge in joshing:

"Say, kid, you're awfully interested in Big Boy, out there."

Sally Smith tossed her head, without deying it. What business, anyhow, was this of Mazie Revere's?

Mazie leaned toward Sally in a not unfriendly—only misguided and warped—way and said:

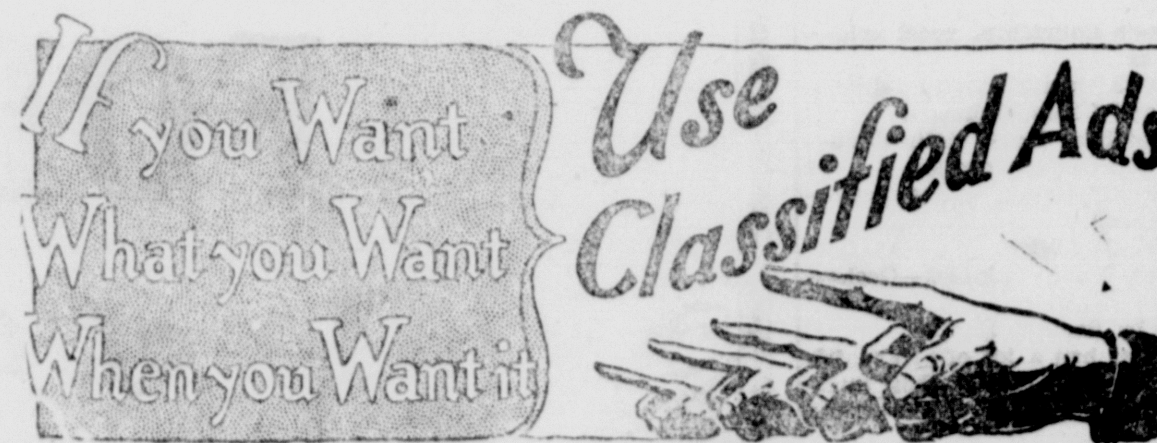

"I do believe you're simp enough to fall for a sap like that. That's all he is. A poverty-stricken sap. Not worth a second look from any girl—who's got chances!"

Sally Smith's eyes filled with the quick, hot tears of maidenly defence. She hugged her cigarette tray tightly, and fought off an impulse to crack it over Mazie's dyed head.

Mazie grew confidential. Talked in the boudoir manner of an ex-chorus girl. In the frank intimacy of one girl of the world to another. "Listen, Sally Smith, I like you. You're a nice kid. And I'm going to get the pip if you start making a horse's rosette of yourself over any good-looking college kid, who ain't long enough out of diapers to have enough money in the bank to interest any sensible girl. You know, honey, I was once a cigarette girl myself. I know the ropes. Follow up your chances with these old codgers. Like that one over there now, who's making goo-goo eyes at you. And leave the empty pocket kids alone. Honest, honey, when I sold coffin nails I was nice to the right kind of gentlemen friends. I improved my chances. And look at me now!"

But Sally Smith, who did not share Mazie's own smug and complacent estimate of her own grandeur, walked off with her head in the air, and a laughing white line on her lips for all the beetling men buyers of cigarettes.

And a song in her young heart. And a tender, pensive serenity in her eyes as she watched a tall, broad boy dance around the room.

WE have never heard of a boxer in good, fighting condition at 66, nor a basketball player in the game after half a century. "Farmer" Burns, dean of American wrestlers, at 66 says he feels as fit as ever and is certain that he could give many of today's young wrestling aspirants some good lessons. For the last few years Burns has been a teacher of physical culture. He saved his money from 6,000 wrestling matches and is comparatively wealthy. Husky at his age, coupled with clean living and clean sport, shows that wrestling must be a more lady-like and less nerve and body destroying task than baseball, boxing, football, or any other sport except golf.

ENGLISH physicians, seeking for a definition of drunkenness, reject the common tests, "such as rapid pulse, repetition of set words and phrases, walking a straight line and failure of convergence of the eyes." These symptoms, says the New York Times in its "By-Products" column, have often been observed among inexperienced after-dinner speakers.

ALL the "dope" about boxers never "coming back" has been thoroughly dispelled by Mike McTigue, who is up in front battling with the best of them.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, working his way through college, is informed by his chums, Freddy and Arch, that they have found an easy and profitable way to earn money—working as dancing partners, of afternoons, for rich women in a fashionable New Jersey roadhouse. Bob thinks it isn't a fit way to make a living; but, faced with eviction for unpaid rent, reluctantly agrees to join the roadhouse. There he sees the prettiest girl he has ever laid eyes on. She is Sally, the cigarette girl. Mazie Revere, a gold-digger, is jealous.

Mazie Revere was a pretty faded fane. Deprived of a dance, she languidly turned to seek fun in the tormenting of Sally Smith, the little cigarette girl, who stood dreamily beside her there, staring out upon Bob Ward. Staring out upon a shining, dappled sea that traced a joyous path to isles of romance, of untroubled content!

It got under Mazie's sophisticated skin to see such unashamed and unalloyed and wholly innocent love at first sight. Such wistful trust in the sunny side of things; such reverence for the innate beauty and truth of life to which Mazie had long since shut her eyes.

For Sally Smith's illusions were still buoyantly around her head; while Mazie Revere's were in tatters under her expensive French heels.

So Mazie, the taste of sour grapes strong within her carmined lips, sneered. It was the way that old creak necks our football hero!" Then, more cattily, adding: "He seems to like it, too!"

"He does not!" Sally Smith's feet were a tingle, but they could stamp upon a floor with a most emphatic show of indignation. There were battle nags glinting in

Watched him, and glowed with amused joy at his awkwardness. Laughed gleefully to herself at his greenness. And nurtured a Vision in her eyes.

Which was most important and interesting.

CHAPTER VI

The afternoon wore on as afternoons have a way of doing, even in New Jersey roadhouses. Even in exclusive and doggy roadhouses such as Palisado Inn, where the hours are high-priced—bought, as they are, in costly three-minute dance intervals.

The hours of this particular afternoon were lent especially swift and airy wings for two youngsters, for whom all Time—the oppressive tyranny of hours, minutes, seconds—had stopped. The pulses and hearts of Sally Smith and Bob Ward were throbbing and leaping with not a regard in creation for clocks or dials or rules.

Bob, with his strong hands clasping the flabby shoulders of performed play-wives, could dance the better for feasting his eyes—and his soul!—upon little Sally Smith, sending her quaint, vandyke's erratic path among the tables.

That was his other self dancing—his physical, re-entangling self.

This was his real self looking at Sally—his ambitious, idealizing, degree-seeking self.

Sally, with her slim little hands balancing her tray close in front of her childishly fluttering breast, could banter and bargain over her wares the more gaily for feasting her eyes upon Bob Ward. It was within the scope of the miracle of innocence and guile combined in little Sally Smith to permit at once the detachment and absorption.

At first Bob had sought her after each dance. Had followed her around, wondering and worshipping in his shy, inarticulate way. Discreetly, and not too obviously, of course.

Yet Mazie, who saw and knew all things, warned him:

"Better lay off mooning after the cigarette girl, Mr. Bob Football Hero Ward, or your first afternoon here will be your last. Madame Leoline ain't running a mash bureau for her employees. Only for her customers. A word to the wise is a sock in the eyes, eh, Big Boy?"

Bob flushed—chagrined to know that his casting dreams must be so plainly mirrored in his face.

He hurried away to join Freddy and Arch, who, at a side stall table, were idling between dances, waiting to be signified by some fair forty-and-fat ladies as partners for the next dance.

"Well," cried Arch, "how do you like it, old Graveyard? Still feel that it's a great sin, no fit way for a he-man to make a living, and all that sort of rot?"

"Oh, it's all right, I guess. Hardly a thing to be proud of, though."

"And why not, Mr. Morality? After all, we're giving value for pay received, which is the fundamental principle of honest work. We're providing many of these women with the only joy and sex they have in life. Don't be too ready to condemn them or even to sneer at them. How do we know what kind of home lives they have—what drives them out to play here? What kind of miserly, grouchy husbands? Let them have their fun—and we sure earn our fifty bucks by providing it for them."

"Yes," laughed Bob, "maybe you're right. Only we're underpaid. It's worth fifty dollars a day to dance with some of these women. Honest, when that floor gets crowded, and they're all clutching and straining and bumping to the whang of the music, I can just close my eyes and it doesn't take any stretch of the imagination at all to make me think I'm playing football. In a scrimmage, after a fumble. And say, some of the partners I've drawn have mangled my feet more than any Fordham or Rutgers line buckers ever did!"

Freddy cast a critical eye around. "Yeh," he agreed, "the clunks here this afternoon are a little passé. But it's early yet. And there are some real swell janes who come in here sometimes. Young and pretty, too. There's one in particular—Mrs. Hammond, Roy, she's a knockout. Tons of money, tons of class, tons of good looks, tons of black hair, tons of everything! Wait until you see HER!"

Bob smiled. "Even if the 'tons' turn out to be only pounds, I'd say from your description that this marvelous Mrs. Hammond person would be well worth looking at!"

"She is!" enthused Freddy and Arch in chorus.

"Who is she?" asked Bob, feeling interested in spite of himself, for reason of the uncommon description given by his chums, whom he knew, were rather blase young college men, to say the least, and not easily carried out of their campus affectation of sangfroid.

(To be continued)

"Better Lay Off Mooning After the Cigarette Girl."

the eyes she turned upon Mazie. Mazie took shrewd refuge in joshing:

"Say, kid, you're awfully interested in Big Boy, out there."

Sally Smith tossed her head, without deying it. What business, anyhow, was this of Mazie Revere's?

Mazie leaned toward Sally in a not unfriendly—only misguided and warped—way and said: "I do believe you're sump enough to fall for a sap like that. That's all he is. A poverty-stricken sap. Not worth a second look from any girl—who's got chances!"

Sally Smith's eyes filled with the quick, hot tears of maidenly defence. She hugged her cigarette tray tightly, and fought off an impulse to crack it over Mazie's dyed head.

Mazie grew confidential. Talked in the boudoir manner of an ex-chorus girl. In the frank intimacy of one girl of the world to another.

"Listen, Sally Smith, I like you. You're a nice kid. And I'm going to get the pip if you start making a horse's rosette of yourself over any good-looking college kid, who ain't long enough out of diapers to have enough money in the bank to interest any sensible girl. You know, honey, I was once a cigarette girl myself. I know the ropes. Follow up your chances with those old codgers. Like that one over there now, who's making goo-goo eyes at you. And leave the empty pocket kids alone. Honest, honey, when I sold coffin nails I was nice to the right kind of gentlemen friends. I improved my chances. And look at me now!"

But Sally Smith, who did not share Mazie's own smug and complacent estimate of her own grandeur, walked off with her head in the air, and a laughing white line on her lips for all the beetling men buyers of cigarettes.

And a song in her young heart. And a tender, pitiful serenity in her eyes as she watched a tall, broad boy dance around the room.

RUTH SIGNS FOR 3 YEARS, 70,000 ANNUALLY

NOW HIGHEST SALARIED MAN IN BASEBALL

CONTRACT CONCLUDED WITH COL. JAKE RUPPERT, OF THE YANKEES

NEW WAGE IS COMPROMISE ON RUTH DEMAND FOR $100,000 A YEAR

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, March 3.—(UP)—Babe Ruth, who earned $3,000 a year when he joined the Boston Red Sox, will sign a contract tomorrow that will make him probably the highest-salaried man in baseball.

In the brewery of Co. Jake Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, the home-run hitter will sign up for three years at $70,000 a year. The president of the United States gets $75,000, but Ruth's movie earnings would put him well above the figure. Ruth said he got $75,000 for his movie work this winter.

Ruth's new salary was fixed at a conference with Ruppert yesterday. It was a compromise on his demand for a two-year contract at $100,000 a year.

Combined with the recent salary advances given Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Rogers Hornsby, Judge Landis and others, Ruth's contract was further concrete evidence that baseball magnates see nothing but prosperity ahead of the game and are convinced that the recent scandals did no harm. It also was evidenced that the shrewd Yankee management is banking on Babe Ruth continuing at the zenith of his remarkable career for at least three years.

Ed. Barrow, business manager of the Yankees and formerly with the Boston Red Sox, in giving a thumbnail sketch of Ruth's rise to prominence, said:

"When I first had the Babe he was getting $2,000 a year, then he was jumped to $4,000, then to $6,000, then to $10,000, then to $25,000, then to $52,000 and now he's up to $70,000 for three years."

John McGraw, as manager of the New York Giants, draws a salary of $35,000 a year but he has stock in the club that means much more to him; Commissioner Landis gets $65,000 a year for running organized baseball; Rogers Hornsby draws $40,000 with the Giants; Ty Cobb is reputed to be getting $75,000 for playing one year with the Athletics but the figure probably is exaggerated and Tris Speaker's $50,000 a year from the Washington Senators is also subject to doubt.

"The Babe always was a baseball player at heart," Barrow said, "and he is today. When I had him first he was a pitcher and I think he had more natural stuff than any left-handed pitcher I ever have seen. But he wasn't content to pitch only. He wanted to play the outfield and he gave me a lot of arguments that he could outplay Stuffy McInnis at first base. He always had a hobby for first base and he still thinks that he should be playing there."

After announcing that he had agreed to give the Babe $210,000 on a three year contract, Ruppert said he figured that his star slugger had five years more of good baseball in him.

"What will he be worth at the end of three years?" the colonel was asked.

"We'll have to wait for that," Ruppert answered and then added: "that Babe has turned into a good business man."

After the formalities of the contract signing are held Friday morning, the Babe will prepare to leave Saturday night for the St. Petersburg training camp.

CHECKER GAMES STIR ENTHUSIASM OF NEW YORK

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Although losing last night's matches, 3 to 2, with 19 drawn games, the American checker team retained its long lead over British players as the international tournament entered its fourth round today.

The standing with 432 games yet to be played: Americans, 24; British, 9; drawn, 111.

Public interest in the tournament has been aroused to such an extent that results of the matches hereafter will be broadcast over station WGL twice daily.

KANSAS WINS TITLE FOR SIXTH YEAR

Lawrence, Kan., March 3.—(UP)—For the sixth consecutive year the University of Kansas basketball team has won the Missouri Valley conference title.

This was decided last night when Kansas won from Missouri university.

SHARKEY TO FIGHT McTIGUE

its ancient foe, 36 to 29. It was the next to the last game of the year for Kansas.

Kansas lost two games this year at the early part of the season and was figuring somewhat out of the pennant race. Later in the season the team developed strength and won over most of the conference teams by top-heavy scores.

EVANGELICALS WIN TIGHT GAME FROM LUTHERANS

CLAUSEN SINKS WINNING BASKET WITH TWO SECONDS TO GO

SCORE WAS 6 TO 5 AS TEAMS BATTLE FOR HIGH LEAGUE HONORS

Games Tonight at Y. M. C. A.
7:00—Presby. vs. Meth. Juniors.
7:40—Baptist vs. Fin. Lutheran Intermediates.

The Evangelical Juniors stepped a notch higher toward their championship when they handed the Lutheran youngsters a 6 to 5 defeat last night, after trailing until the last few seconds.

Kenneth Clausen made the winning basket, on a pretty pass from Marshall to the corner where Clausen stood unguarded, and his flip to the net was true. About two seconds later the time was up, and the victory clinched for the northeasterners.

The Lutherans have a habit of sustaining 6 to 5 defeats. All of their defeats of the league season, three in number, have been by that count. Clausen made four points on two baskets, Marshall making the two points on free throws. For the losers, Billy Smith made all points, on two baskets and a free throw.

The Methodist intermediates failed to show up for their game with the Evangelicals, and forfeited, thus giving the Evangelicals a clinch for the intermediate championship.

TWO OF RING'S GARRULOUS HEAVYWEIGHTS

MEET IN ELIMINATION BOUT AT THE GARDEN TONIGHT

TEX RICKARD WEEDING THEM OUT TO FIND CHALLENGER FOR GENE TUNNEY

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Two of the ring's most garrulous heavyweights, Jack Sharkey and Mike McTigue, will meet tonight in another of those elimination bouts by which Tex Rickard seeks a challenger for the crown of Gene Tunney.

Sharkey and McTigue already have had a battle of words and the Lithuanian is several thousand syllables ahead of the Celt.

"I may end up 'old rattle-bones' in the first round," Sharkey announced on the eve of battle. "Remember that Mickey Walker once beat him and then reflect on what I will do."

McTigue demurred. "About four rounds for Sharkey—just to show him something about boxing—then I'll knock him kicking," the Irishman promised.

A near-capacity house probably will be on hand for the bout, Sharkey was a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting but there are enough ring fans who believe that if McTigue is able to reproduce his fight against Paul Berlenbach he will be hard to stop. Sharkey probably will have more than 20 pounds weight advantage, and is almost a score of years younger. He has not fought since he whipped Harry Wills last autumn.

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Jack Sharkey of Boston weighed 189 1/2 pounds and Mike McTigue of New York 170 1/2 when they weighed in at 2 o'clock today for their fight in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Fighters for the semi-finals weighed in as follows:
Arthur De Kuh of New York

209 1/2; Pat Lester of Arizona 238; Loui Bogash of Bridgeport, Conn., 170; Billy Viadebeck of New York, 172.

More policemen were present than spectators when the fighters weighed in.

It was announced that the Garden was a sell out for tonight's fights.

FLYING ACES ARE CHALLENGED AGAIN BY RAINBOWS TEAM

GAME WOULD NOT BE FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP NOW HELD BY ACES

NO WORD YET FROM FLYING ACES MANAGER, CHALLENGE MAY BE ACCEPTED

The Rainbows today came out with a challenge to the Flying Aces to play a second game some time soon, the Rainbows feeling that the one point victory won by the Aces on Tuesday of this week, while it won the city championship for the Aces, still did not decide the respective merits of the team.

Manager Peterson of the Rainbows said, "We are not trying to grab the city title away from the Flying Aces. They won it and we'll let that stand. But we still think we have the better team, and we want another chance to show the fans that we can beat the Aces."

The Flying Aces have not yet accepted the challenge, but it is expected that they will do so. Many fans have been demanding a second game, since the 14 to 13 victory of the Flying Aces on Tuesday.

TWO STARS IN BASEBALL HAVE SIGNED CONTRACTS

PROMINENT HOLDOUTS BEING SABBETH RUTH AND ENGLISH

LATTER IS $50,000 CUB ROOKIE DISSATISFIED WITH TOLEDO

Chicago, March 3.—(UP)—Two of baseball's most prominent holdouts have agreed to 1927 baseball playing terms during the past 24 hours, the spotlight turned today to the warmer climates where some 450 ball players are getting ready for the 1927 season.

The two are Babe Ruth and Elwood English, the $50,000 Cub rookie who has been dissatisfied because Toledo, from whom the Cubs got him, did not share the purchase price with the rookie.

Ruth agreed to sign in New York yesterday for three years at $70,000 per year.

English is on his way to Chicago to sign, according to the Cubs management. Whether he or Toledo gave ground in the argument was not announced.

All over the southland, in California, and out on Catalina Island, the smack of bat against bat is a familiar sound, as veterans and youngsters alike who cavort in the big leagues, undergo their annual spring training.

Right now there is quite a bit of rubbing sore muscles, treating bruised spots, and unlimbering creaking joints in the various camps.

In the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals, the team Rogers Hornsby led fans have been demanding a second year, there are 31 players. A new manager, Bob O'Farrell, voted the most valuable player in the national league during 1926 has assumed the helm.

The Cards are one of the outfits which have been fortunate with their weather so far, a blazing sun has served to speed along the conditioning at Avon park, Florida.

At Sarasota in the same state forty potential Giants are already to the point where practice games are part of the program. Rogers Hornsby leading the regulars against the subs in one of these six inning affairs saw his outfit get something like 15 hits—not bad for six innings at any time of the year.

The Athletics, picked by many critics to lead the American league this year are working at Fort Myers, Florida. One bright spot in the Philadelphia affairs is the work of a young rookie, Frank Wilson, an outfielder who played with Waco, Texas last year. Sammy Hale is playing third base with the regulars instead of Sammy Dykes.

George Sisler has thrown quite a bit of hope into the Browns affairs by announcing publicly that he is pleased to work under Dan Howley, who succeeded him as manager. The Browns are camped at Tarpon Springs, Florida.

At Clearwater, Florida, rain has interfered some with the work of the Brooklyn Robins. Bob McGraw, pitcher, who threatened for a while to demand more money, finally has come to terms and things are going fine with the Robins.

At Shreveport, Louisiana, Ray Schalk is doing his first work as manager of the Chicago White Sox. The Sox are having quite a bit of trouble with the weather and haven't done much work yet.

On Catalina Island, Joe McCarthy and his Cubs are having a swell time. McCarthy believes in two workouts a day and his team has progressed so far that already he is banking on three rookies to show well. They are Luther Roy, pitcher, who comes from the southern association, Frank Kern, who came up from Okmulgee, Okla., and Henry Wilkie, a third baseman from Asheville, N. C.

The other teams are scattered through the country doing different kinds of work but all for one purpose—to try to get some place in the 1927 standings of the major leagues.

CAGE TOURNEY STARTS TODAY AT AITKIN

BRAINERD HIGH MEETS STAPLES AT 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT

GUIN, STAR CENTER, ILL PAST FEW DAYS, MAY NOT PLAY

The B. H. S. basketball team left this noon for Aitkin where they will play in the first round of the district tournament this evening versus Staples. The locals have defeated the western team twice this year and hope to eliminate them tonight.

Guin, star center has been ill for the past few days but it was hoped that he will be able to play in the tourney.

The Aitkin team has refrained from using the armory, under an agreement made before the season started, so all teams have an equal chance, so far as the floor is concerned.

The first game of the tournament was played between Crosby-Ironton and Pine River at 3 o'clock. Little Falls and Wadena clashed at 4 o'clock. Brainerd and Staples meet at 8 o'clock. After the Brainerd tilt this evening, Aitkin and Motley will battle for honors. Brainerd is hoped to hold the edge over Staples, Wadena over Little Falls, Crosby-Ironton over Pine River and Aitkin is conceded a certain victory over Motley, who has been known to have the weakest strength in the district. Most likely Brainerd will meet Wadena in tomorrow night's contest the outcome of which will attract the attention of the entire district.

Saturday afternoon a free throw contest will be held, two men from each team taking part. Each will have 30 tosses. At 3 o'clock Saturday a consolation game will be played between the losers of Friday night's contests.

Seven Little Falls players made the trip and ate lunch in the city while passing through en route to Aitkin today.

"When I first had the Babe he was getting $3,000 a year, then he was jumped to $4,000, then to $6,000, then to $10,000, then to $25,000, then to $52,000 and now he's up to $70,000 for three years."

John McGraw, as manager of the New York Giants, draws a salary of $35,000 a year but he has stock in the club that means much more to him; Commissioner Landis gets $65,000 a year for running organized baseball; Rogers Hornsby draws $40,000 with the Giants; Ty Cobb is reported to be getting $75,000 for playing one year with the Athletics but the figure probably is exaggerated and Tris Speaker's $50,000 a year from the Washington Senators is also subject to doubt.

"The Babe always was a baseball player at heart," Barrow said, "and he is today. When I had him first he was a pitcher and I think he had more natural stuff than any left-handed pitcher I ever have seen. But he wasn't content to pitch only. He wanted to play the outfield and he gave me a lot of arguments that he could outplay Stuffy McInnis at first base. He always had a hobby for first base and he still thinks that he should be playing there."

After announcing that he had agreed to give the Babe $210,000 on a three year contract, Ruppert said he figured that his star slugger had five years more of good baseball in him.

"What will he be worth at the end of three years?" the colonel was asked.

"We'll have to wait for that," Ruppert answered and then added—"that Babe has turned into a good business man."

After the formalities of the contract signing are held Friday morning, the Babe will prepare to leave Saturday night for the St. Petersburg training camp.

CHECKER GAMES STIR ENTHUSIASM OF NEW YORK

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Although losing last night's matches, 3 to 2, with 19 drawn games, the American checker team retained its long lead over British players as the international tournament entered its fourth round today.

The standing with 432 games yet to be played: Americans, 24; British, 9; drawn, 111.

Public interest in the tournament has been aroused to such an extent that results of the matches hereafter will be broadcast over station WGL twice daily.

KANSAS WINS TITLE FOR SIXTH YEAR

Lawrence, Kan., March 3.—(UP)—For the sixth consecutive year the University of Kansas basketball team has won the Missouri Valley conference title.

This was decided last night when Kansas won from Missouri university,

SHARKEY TO FIGHT McTIGUE

its ancient foe, 36 to 29. It was the next to the last game of the year for Kansas.

Kansas lost two games this year at the early part of the season and was figuring somewhat out of the pennant race. Later in the season the team developed strength and won over most of the conference teams by top-heavy scores.

EVANGELICALS WIN TIGHT GAME FROM LUTHERANS

CLAUSEN SINKS WINNING BASKET WITH TWO SECONDS TO GO

SCORE WAS 6 TO 5 AS TEAMS BATTLE FOR HIGH LEAGUE HONORS

Games Tonight at Y. M. C. A.
7:00—Presby. vs. Meth. Juniors.
7:40—Baptist vs. Fin. Lutheran Intermediates.

The Evangelical Juniors stepped a notch higher toward their championship when they handed the Lutheran youngsters a 6 to 5 defeat last night, after trailing until the last few seconds.

Kenneth Clausen made the winning basket, on a pretty pass from Marshall to the corner where Clausen stood unguarded, and his flip to the net was true. About two seconds later the time was up, and the victory clinched for the northeasterners.

The Lutherans have a habit of sustaining 6 to 5 defeats. All of their defeats of the league season, three number, have been by that count.

Clausen made four points on two baskets, Marshall making the two points on free throws. For the losers, Billy Smith made all points, on two baskets and a free throw.

The Methodist intermediates failed to show up for their game with the Evangelicals, and forfeited, thus giving the Evangelicals a cinch for the intermediate championship.

TWO OF RING'S GARRULOUS HEAVYWEIGHTS

MEET IN ELIMINATION BOUT AT THE GARDEN TONIGHT

TEX RICKARD WEEDING THEM OUT TO FIND CHALLENGER FOR GENE TUNNEY

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Two of the ring's most garrulous heavyweights, Jack Sharkey and Mike McTigue, will meet tonight in another of those elimination bouts by which Tex Rickard seeks a challenger for the crown of Gene Tunney.

Sharkey and McTigue already have had a battle of words and the Lithuanian is several thousand syllables ahead of the Celt.

"I may end up 'old rattle-bones' in the first round," Sharkey announced on the eve of battle. "Remember that Mickey Walker once beat him and then reflect on what I will do."

McTigue demurred.

"About four rounds for Sharkey—just to show him something about boxing—then I'll knock him kicking," the Irishman promised.

A near-capacity house probably will be on hand for the bout. Sharkey was a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting but there are enough ring fans who believe that if McTigue is able to reproduce his fight against Paul Berlenbach he will be hard to stop.

Sharkey probably will have more than 20 pounds weight advantage, and is almost a score of years young. He has not fought since he whipped Harry Wills last autumn.

New York, March 3.—(UP)—Jack Sharkey of Boston weighed 189½ pounds and Mike McTigue of New York 170½ when they weighed in at 2 o'clock today for their fight in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Fighters for the semi-finals weighed in as follows:
Arthur De Kuh of New York

209½; Pat Lester of Arizona 238; Loui Bogash of Bridgeport, Conn., 170; Billy Viadebeck of New York, 172.

More policemen were present than spectators when the fighters weighed in.

It was announced that the Garden was a sell out for tonight's fights.

FLYING ACES ARE CHALLENGED AGAIN BY RAINBOWS TEAM

GAME WOULD NOT BE FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP NOW HELD BY ACES

NO WORD YET FROM FLYING ACES MANAGER, CHALLENGE MAY BE ACCEPTED

The Rainbows today came out with a challenge to the Flying Aces to play a second game some time soon, the Rainbows feeling that the one point victory won by the Aces on Tuesday of this week, while it won the city championship for the Aces, still did not decide the respective merits of the team.

Manager Peterson of the Rainbows said, "We are not trying to grab the city title away from the Flying Aces. They won it and we'll let that stand. But we still think we have the better team, and we want another chance to show the fans that we can beat the Aces."

The Flying Aces have not yet accepted the challenge, but it is expected that they will do so. Many fans have been demanding a second game, since the 14 to 13 victory of the Flying Aces on Tuesday.

TWO STARS IN BASEBALL HAVE SIGNED CONTRACTS

PROMINENT HOLDOUTS BEING BABE RUTH AND ENGLISH

LATTER IS $50,000 CUB ROOKIE DISSATISFIED WITH TOLEDO

Chicago, March 3.—(UP)—Two of baseball's most prominent holdouts have agreed to 1927 baseball playing terms during the past 24 hours, the spotlight turned today to the warmer climates where some 450 ball players are getting ready for the 1927 season.

The two are Babe Ruth and Elwood English, the $50,000 Cub rookie who has been dissatisfied because Toledo, from whom the Cubs got him, did not share the purchase price with the rookie.

Ruth agreed to sign in New York yesterday for three years at $70,000 per year.

English is on his way to Chicago to sign, according to the Cubs management. Whether he or Toledo gave ground in the argument was not announced.

All over the southland, in California, and out on Catalina Island, the smack of bat against bat is a familiar sound, as veterans and youngsters alike who covet in the big leagues, undergo their annual spring training.

Right now there is quite a bit of rubbing sore muscles, treating bruised spots, and unlimbering creaking joints in the various camps.

In the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals, the team Rogers Hornsby led fans have been demanding a second game, since the 14 to 13 victory of the Flying Aces on Tuesday.

most valuable player in the national league during 1926 has assumed the helm.

The Cards are one of the outfits which have been fortunate with their weather so far, a blazing sun has served to speed along the conditioning at Avon park, Florida.

At Sarasota in the same state forty potential Giants are already to the point where practice games are part of the program. Rogers Hornsby leading the regulars against the subs in one of these six inning affairs saw his outfit get something like 15 hits—not bad for six innings at any time of the year.

The Athletics, picked by many critics to lead the American leagues this year are working at Fort Myers, Florida. One bright spot in the Philadelphia affairs is the work of a young rookie, Frank Wilson, an outfielder who played with Waco, Texas last year. Sammy Hale is playing third base with the regulars instead of Sammy Dykes.

George Sisler has thrown quite a bit of hope into the Browns affairs by announcing publicly that he is pleased to work under Dan Howley, who succeeded him as manager. The Browns are camped at Tarpon Springs, Florida.

At Clearwater, Florida, rain has interfered some with the work of the Brooklyn Robins. Bob McGraw, pitcher, who threatened for a while to demand more money, finally has come to terms and things are going fine with the Robins.

At Shreveport, Louisiana, Ray Schalk is doing his first work as manager of the Chicago White Sox. The Sox are having quite a bit of trouble with the weather and haven't done much work yet.

On Catalina Island, Joe McCarthy and his Cubs are having a swell time. McCarthy believes in two workouts a day and his team has progressed so far that already he is banking on three rookies to show well. They are Luther Roy, pitcher, who comes from the southern association, Frank Kern, who came up from Okmulgee, Okla., and Henry Wilkie, a third baseman from Asheville, N. C.

The other teams are scattered through the country doing different kinds of work but all for one purpose—to try to get some place in the 1927 standings of the major leagues.

CAGE TOURNEY STARTS TODAY AT AITKIN

BRainerd HIGH MEETS STAPLES AT 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT

GUIN, STAR CENTER, ILL PAST FEW DAYS, MAY NOT PLAY

The B. H. S. basketball team left this noon for Aitkin where they will play in the first round of the district tournament this evening versus Staples. The locals have defeated the western team twice this year and hope to eliminate them tonight.

Guin, star center has been ill for the past few days but it was hoped that he will be able to play in the tourney.

The Aitkin team has refrained from using the armory, under an agreement made before the season started, so all teams have an equal chance, so far as the floor is concerned.

The first game of the tournament was played between Crosby-Ironton and Pine River at 3 o'clock. Little Falls and Wadena clashed at 4 o'clock. Brainerd and Staples meet at 8 o'clock. After the Brainerd tilt this evening, Aitkin and Motley will battle for honors.

Brainerd is doped to hold the edge over Staples, Wadena over Little Falls, Crosby-Ironton over Pine River and Aitkin is conceded a certain victory over Motley, who has been known to have the weakest strength in the district. Most likely Brainerd will meet Wadena in tomorrow night's contest the outcome of which will attract the attention of the entire district.

Saturday afternoon a free throw contest will be held, two men from each team taking part. Each will have 30 tosses. At 3 o'clock Saturday a consolation game will be played between the losers of Friday night's contests.

Seven Little Falls players made the trip and ate lunch in the city while passing through en route to Aitkin today.

The order has been filed and Larson is lodged in the county jail waiting transportation to St. Cloud reformatory where he must serve out the indeterminate sentence of one to five years imposed last November.

County Attorney W. F. Wieland petitioned the district court to revoke the order suspending the sentence on account of breaking parole.

The sentence last November was suspended on condition that Larson abstain from use of intoxicating liquor, be peaceful and law abiding, and avoid late unnecessary hours.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

DEFENSE PLEA IS INSANITY

Chicago, March 3.—(UP)—A defense contention that Harold J. Croarkin—who is on trial for murdering six year old Walter Schmith, Jr.—is a "mad man", will be presented today. The state is expected to conclude its testimony this morning—testimony by which State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe believes Croarkin should be hanged. The defense will start presenting its witnesses immediately afterward.

Among those to testify for Croarkin are his wealthy relatives, several alienists and several persons who know the rather pensive appearing defendant.

MEXICO'S REPLY TO U. S. NOTE RECEIVED TODAY

Washington, March 3.—(UP)—Mexico's reply to the United States note of Feb. 28, was received by the state department today.

Department officials declined to comment on the contents of the American note or the Mexican reply.

It is understood, however, that the correspondence does not relate directly to the disputed land and oil laws. There is no evidence here of an immediate break in diplomatic relations or lifting of the American embargo of arms shipments to Mexico.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.
Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

DEFENSE PLEA IS INSANITY

Chicago, March 3.—(UP)—A defense contention that Harold J. Croarkin, who is on trial for murdering six-year old Walter Schmitt, Jr.—is a "mad man", will be presented today.
The state is expected to conclude its testimony this morning—testimony by which State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe believes Croarkin should be hanged. The defense will start presenting its witnesses immediately afterward.
Among those to testify for Croarkin are his wealthy relatives, several alienists and several persons who knew the rather pensive appearing defendant.

SEN. LA FOLLETTE ILL WITH GRIPPE

Washington, March 3.—(UP)—Sen. Robert M. La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, is confined to his bed with a severe attack of la grippe, his office announced today.
La Follette was forced to leave the senate chamber at 3 o'clock this morning and since then has been under a doctor's care. He probably will be unable to return to the senate during the short time left before adjournment.

MEXICO'S REPLY TO U. S. NOTE RECEIVED TODAY

Washington, March 3.—(UP)—Mexico's reply to the United States note of Feb. 28, was received by the state department today.
Department officials declined to comment on the contents of the American note or the Mexican reply.
It is understood, however, that the correspondence does not relate directly to the disputed land and oil laws. There is no evidence here of an immediate break in diplomatic relations or lifting of the American embargo of arms shipments to Mexico.

SENATE ACTION ON RADIO COMMISSION ABANDONED TODAY

Washington, March 3.—(UP)—All senate action on President Coolidge's appointees to the Radio commission was abandoned today by Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, chairman of the interstate commerce committee to which the nominations were referred.

Consequently, Watson said, President Coolidge could give recess appointments to the nominees, three of whom have been criticized by Senator Dill, democrat, Washington, as "hand picked Hoover men."

In this case they would draw no pay unless they are confirmed next session.

BOYHOLOGY COURSE OPENS TOMORROW

Eight Instructive Meetings Open for Business Men, Dads, and Scoutleaders

METHODS OF SCOUTING

Experts in Work From Out of City to Lead; Men Will be Scouts Again

Men and dads will renew the enthusiasm and indulgence of youth by again becoming boys, playing over the old games, starting as it were at the bottom rung of the ladder of youth, thus securing first-hand knowledge of scoutcraft in the 16-hour course in boyology under the auspices of the Crow Wing Area Council commencing tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the farmers' room of the court house.

The method of scout training is to "learn by doing." This is not a book study course but a natural practice course in the most successful and the best liked boy activity, perfected by the greatest and most successful boy work movement in the world. Activities will be directed and lectures given by experts from several nearby cities.

The scoutleaders and men at the completion of the course will receive a clearer understanding and more adequate appreciation of the nature and the needs of the boy, so they may impart these messages to the boys.

H. F. Pote, St. Paul will be the leader for the meeting tomorrow evening in the court house. His topic will be "Putting the Lead in Leadship." It will be followed by the men tying tenderfoot knots and playing games.

The meeting on March 11 will be held in Crosby with B. Magoffin, Deerwood in charge. The patrol period will include the oath law, and flag. On March 18, the men will meet at Staples and the yearly programs will be outlined by N. Nagel, St. Paul. This will be followed by signaling and games that review and instruct.

The remaining programs follow: Brainerd, March 25—Ed. Moller, Fargo, expert on archery; first aid patrol demonstration and patrol games.

Ironton, April 1—C. W. Armstrong, St. Cloud on nature lore, fire by friction, etc. The patrol period will consist of lessons on the knife, hatchet, fires and the making of fuzes followed by the investiture ceremony of Troops No. 1 Ironton.

Brainerd, April 8—C. W. Hadden, Duluth, on advancement; patrol period, compass; and the methods period taken up with troop committee.

Aitkin, April 15—W. Block, scout commissioner, Minneapolis; patrol period, map making; methods period, handicraft stunts.

Brainerd, April 22—C. S. Wyckoff, Minneapolis; patrol period, judging; patrol leaders, G. S. Wyckoff.

MRS. JACOB KAUPP, and daughter

ADVOCATES USE OF FERTILIZERS

George Nesom, Soil Expert, Spoke to Lions Club Last Evening

TOLD OF EXPERIMENTS

Suggests Planting of Alfalfa on Sandy Soil With Addition of Lime

Discussing the results in brief of experiments conducted on peat and sandy lands on hundreds of plots, and dozens of experimental farms throughout the northeastern part of the state, George Nesom, soil expert, University Farm, Department of Agriculture, in an address to the Lions club last evening advocated the use of lime, marl and other fertilizer for the increase in yield of crops throughout this country.

"We found through the experiments," said Mr. Nesom, "that sandy land soil was usually deficient in nitrogen and lime and by the addition of lime, clovers and alfalfa can be raised which will supply the nitrogen. Soil that did not raise alfalfa or clover due to lime shortage were made to yield three to four tons of alfalfa per acre by the addition of two tons of lime or marl per acre, and all other crops planted after the alfalfa showed large increases in the yield."

"The usual deficiencies in peat land are potash and phosphates. In order to get crops of peat lands, they must be plowed and drained and then fertilizer added. The usual rates of application are 400 lbs. of the treatment of 0-10-20, or the treatment of 350 lbs. of 0-11-22."

Best crops to raise are grasses, timothy, alsike, red top. Yields have been increased three tons per acre following this application. Other good crops to grow on peat lands with fertilizers are potatoes, flax, buckwheat, celery, cabbage, head lettuce and other garden vegetables. Due to summer frosts on peat bogs, however, grasses are the best, and most certain crops to be grown."

Mr. Nesom today addressed a meeting of the Twin Lakes Farmers club at Pequot. County Agent E. G. Roth was in attendance.

I wish to acknowledge the interest and courtesy extended to me in the prompt payment of the loss I sustained by fire on my dwelling at 420 D street, Northeast, on February 18th, at the hands of Mr. Henry I. Cohen, agent for the Providence Washington Insurance Company. I want to thank Mr. Cohen for his activity in securing the prompt settlement made.

SENATE ACTION ON RADIO COMMISSION ABANDONED TODAY

Washington, March 3.—(UP)—All senate action on President Coolidge's appointees to the Radio commission was abandoned today by Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, chairman of the interstate commerce committee to which the nominations were referred.
Consequently, Watson said, President Coolidge could give recess appointments to the nominees, three of whom have been criticized by Senator Dill, democrat, Washington, as "hand picked Hoover men."

In this case they would draw no pay unless they are confirmed next session.

BOYHOOD COURSE OPENS TOMORROW

Eight Instructive Meetings Open for Business Men, Dads, and Scoutleaders

METHODS OF SCOUTING

Experts in Work From Out of City to Lead; Men Will be Scouts Again

Men and dads will renew the enthusiasm and indulgence of youth by again becoming boys, playing over the old games, starting as it were at the bottom rung of the ladder of youth, thus securing first-hand knowledge of scoutcraft in the 16 hour course in boyhood under the auspices of the Crow Wing Area Council commencing tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the farmers room of the court house.

The method of scout training is to "learn by doing." This is not a book study course but a natural practice course in the most successful and the best liked boy activity, perfected by the greatest and most successful boy work movement in the world. Activities will be directed and lectures given by experts from several nearby cities.

The scoutleaders and men at the completion of the course will receive a clearer understanding and more adequate appreciation of the nature and the needs of the boy, so they may impart these messages to the boys.

F. E. Pote, St. Paul will be the leader for the meeting tomorrow evening in the court house. His topic will be "Putting the Lead in Leads." It will be followed by the men tying tenderfoot knots and playing games.

The meeting on March 11 will be held in Crosby with B. Magoffin, Deer-wood in charge. The patrol period will include the oath law, and flag.
On March 18, the men will meet at Staples and the yearly programs will be outlined by N. Nagel, St. Paul.
This will be followed by signaling and games that review and instruct.

The remaining programs follow:
Brainerd, March 25.—Ed. Miller,
Fargo, expert on archery; first aid patrol demonstration and patrol games.

Ironton, April 1.—C. W. Armstrong, St. Cloud on nature lore, fire by friction, etc. The patrol period will consist of lessons on the knife, hatchet, fires and the making of fuzz sticks followed by the investiture ceremony of Troops No. 1 Ironton.

Brainerd, April 8.—C. W. Hadden, Duluth, on advancement; patrol period, compass; and the methods period taken up with troop committee.

Aitkin, April 15.—W. Block, scout commissioner, Minneapolis; patrol period, map making; methods period, handicraft stunts.

Brainerd, April 22.—C. S. Wyckoff, Minneapolis; patrol period; judging;
patrol leaders, G. S. Wyckoff.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors, and pall bearers, Con-

bereavement, the death of husband

ADVOCATES USE OF FERTILIZERS

George Nesom, Soil Expert, Spoke to Lions Club Last Evening

TOLD OF EXPERIMENTS

Suggests Planting of Alfalfa on Sandy Soil With Addition of Lime

Discussing the results in brief of experiments conducted on peat and sandy lands on hundreds of plots, and dozens of experimental farms throughout the northeastern part of the state, George Nesom, soil expert, University Farm, Department of Agriculture, in an address to the Lions club last evening advocated the use of lime, marl and other fertilizer for the increase in yield of crops throughout this county.

"We found through the experiments," said Mr. Nesom, "that sandy land soil was usually deficient in nitrogen and lime and by the addition of lime, clovers and alfalfa can be raised which will supply the nitrogen. Soil that did not raise alfalfa or clover due to lime shortage were able to yield three to four tons of alfalfa per acre by the addition of two tons of lime or marl per acre, and all other crops planted after the alfalfa showed large increases in the yield."

"The usual deficiencies in peat land are potash and phosphates. In order to get crops off peat lands, they must be plowed and drained and then fertilizer added. The usual rates of application are 400 lbs. of the treatment of 0-10-20, or the treatment of 350 lbs. of 0-11-22.

Best crops to raise are grasses, timothy, alsike, red top. Yields have been increased three tons per acre following this application.
Other good crops to grow on peat lands with fertilizers are potatoes, flax, buckwheat, celery, cabbage,
head lettuce and other garden vegetables. Due to summer frosts on peat bogs, however, grasses are the best and most certain crops to be grown."

Mr. Nesom today addressed a meeting of the Twin Lakes Farmers club at Pequot. County Agent E. G. Roth was in attendance.

Local Red Cross

B. P. NEWTON, CHAIRMAN

Miss Mary Moreland, Field Representative of A. N. R. C.
Made Suggestions

An American Red Cross Life Saving committee was organized to make recommendations to the executive committee of the local Red Cross Chapter preparatory to the summer program of intensive swimming instruction and life saving demonstration, at a meeting last evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. J. A. Thabes, chairman of the Brainerd Chapter, American Red Cross, who explained the reason of the meeting and introduced Miss Mary Moreland, field representative from St. Louis, of the A. N. R. C.

Miss Moreland reviewed a suggested program for the summer, recommending that men be employed for four to six weeks to give instruction at the public beaches in Crow Wing county. On motion of Mrs. A.
C. Weber, a resolution was adopted that a committee be formed.

The following were named as members of the committee to advise the life saving program: B. Perry Newton, chairman; Carl Wright,
Thora Ingebritson, G. W. Chad-

this summer. The committee has recommended that a man be appointed, from June 15 for six weeks.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles don't know that quick and permanent relief can be accomplished with internal medicine. Cutting or any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will not remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in many, many cases with a marvelous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you.

'It Does My Heart Good Just To Watch That Kid Eat'

Three months ago he was thin and frail—he had no appetite and didn't want to play with other children.

Look at him now with his robust frame, his healthy color and sparkling eyes—and just watch him eat. Cod Liver Oil would have helped him but he couldn't take the nasty stuff—it upset his delicate stomach. So his wise mother gave him McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and now the whole family is happy.

Give your child McCoy's Mother, if he is weak and thin—it is rich in just the kind of vitamins he needs to build him up and if by any chance they don't help him, get your money back. 60 tablets 60 cents at H. P. Dunn's. C. D. Johnson's and druggists everywhere.

ODEON BUILDING, ST. LOUIS, RAVAGED BY FIERCE FIRE

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—(UP)—The Odeon building, home of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, was ravaged by fire here late Wednesday and valuable musical treasures were destroyed.

The auditorium itself was but little damaged. Other parts of the building were destroyed, however, making the hall unsafe. The orchestra must find another place to finish its season.

An irreparable loss was the symphony orchestra's library, a collection of scores printed and manuscript, pamphlets and complete sets of old programs.

Loss from the fire was estimated today at $400,000.

DANGER OF WINTER TRAVEL EMPHASIZED

Moffat, Colo., March 3.—(UP)—Danger of winter travel in mountains was emphasized today with word of the death of one prospector and the injury of two others by a snowslide near Miracle.

James Allen, aged mining man, was killed when the slide buried him. His two companions, Frank Arand and William Hein, were injured.

The three were trudging along a mountain trail to look at a mining lease when, without warning, tons of snow rolled down on them.

Man Loses His "Grouch," Wife Happy

"There is nothing I haven't tried for constipation, but until I heard of Adlerika, nothing would help me. Now, I can eat and sleep and have got rid of the grouchy feeling I used to have."—Jack Ryder.

Because Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, it gives the system a REAL cleansing and clears out old poisons which usually cause sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. Just ONE spoonful stops GAS, and relieves that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adlerika brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. and other druggists.

St. Paul, March 3.—(UP)—Railroad freight men from six Northwest states met here today to study methods to prevent freight claims.

Shippers and railroad representatives were here from Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota. Many of the delegates were freight handlers who had been relieved at their posts in order to make a thorough study of preventative freight losses.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Northwestern Claim conference and was sponsored by the Transportation club.

A Difficulty of Middle Age
Perhaps the hardest time for a middle-aged man to think he feels just as young as he used to be is just after he has gone up a couple of flights of stairs at a fairly brisk pace.—Ohio State Journal.

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Ingestion Results From An Excess of Hydrochloric Acid

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles don't know that quick and permanent relief can be accomplished with internal medicine. Cutting or any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will not remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in many, many cases with a marvelous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you.

W.C. Fields and Mary Alden in a scene from 'The Pottermore'

Characterization in "The Pottermore" Requires Big Black Cheroots!

If a movie actor has any bad habits he might as well give up trying to reform, in the opinion of W. C. Fields, whose latest Paramount starring picture, "The Pottermore," will be seen at the Lyceum theatre today and Friday. Fields recently swore off smoking. The long, black cheroots that had been so concomitant a part of his physiognomy were to be banned. Juggle with 'em? Yes!

So his wise mother gave him McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and now the whole family is happy.

Give your child McCoy's Mother, if he is weak and thin—it is rich in just the kind of vitamins he needs to build him up and if by any chance they don't help him, get your money back. 60 tablets 60 cents at H. P. Dunn's, C. D. Johnson's and druggists everywhere.

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—(UP)—The Odeon building, home of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, was ravaged by fire here late Wednesday and valuable musical treasures were destroyed.

An irreparable loss was the symphony orchestra's library, a collection of scores printed and manuscript, pamphlets and complete sets of old programs.

Loss from the fire was estimated today at $400,000.
